CPE reveals the winners of the 2015 Executive of the Year Awards, according to the popular vote.

Share

The CPE Executive of the Year awards, now in their 19th year, are traditionally determined by a peer vote among members of the CPE 100 board of senior-level real estate executives from across the industry. But we also opened up the ballot to the industry at large, and received an enthusiastic response (with more than 700 voters weighing in).

Here's how the public vote ranked the winners. You can compare it to the official lineup by clicking through to the December 2015 issue of Commercial Property Executive.
