comments Rose. "From the outset, we have

Rose continues: "Tom, Dan and the Appian team embrace our culture of intellectual capital delivered to clients by professionals who are accountable for client outcomes. Dan and Tom have always operated according to these same principles, which are the cornerstone of our Washington, DC Metropolitan Area and global presence."

"I couldn't be more excited to work with Dan and Tom and the talented Appian team. This highly respected group brings a breadth of experience across product types, geography and service lines and together we are well-positioned for further expansion. This is a strategic acquisition that gives Avison Young a competitive business advantage in several key areas," states Keith Lipton, Avison Young Principal and Managing Director of the Washington DC Capital Region.

"Moreover, Appian has a client-centered approach and sterling reputation that align very well with Avison Young business practices," adds Lipton, who joined Avison Young in November 2009 to launch the company's presence in the Capital Region.

Effective immediately, Appian's office, located at 7901 Jones Branch Drive in McLean, Virginia (Tysons Corner), will be rebranded as Avison Young.

"Tom and Dan are leaders in the business with a stellar track record both with Appian and throughout their careers. They will be great additions to our DC leadership team and, combining with Appian, will give us a much broader client-service platform in the DC area," notes Earl Webb, Avison Young's President, U.S. Operations.

"This acquisition establishes agency leasing and project management businesses with the addition of two very senior brokers (Gonzalez and Sandlin) and their team. Appian's heavy focus on government/IT, healthcare and biotech clients will also expand Avison Young's business base with the region's very active client types."

"The Avison Young philosophy and business approach are basically a perfect fit with Appian's," says Gonzalez. "I am confident that together we are going to achieve great results in the Washington, DC region real estate sector. Appian was built under two guiding principles: first, that everything centers around clients, serving their needs today and anticipating what their needs will be tomorrow; and second, that we foster a culture of world-class professionalism and entrepreneurial spirit."

In terms of timing, Appian's interest in joining Avison Young was driven by Appian's growth of both clients and staff. "While
