Avison Young Adds Two Principals

ATLANTA - Longtime teammates Brent Weitnauer and Chip Watson have joined Avison Young as principals of the industrial properties group.

The commercial real estate executives most recently were first vice presidents with CB Richard Ellis in Atlanta. "Brent and Chip are a perfect fit for us as we continue to grow the Avison Young office here in Atlanta," said Steve Dils, a principal and managing director of the firm's Atlanta office. "They are talented and successful brokers who have a great reputation in the marketplace based on their character and how they represent their clients. I couldn't be more pleased that they have chosen to join the Avison Young organization as we continue to build our Southeast presence."

Avison Young is Canada's largest independently owned commercial real estate services company. The firm has been ramping up its U.S. operation, opening a shop in Houston just last month. The Atlanta office opened in the past six months as did Washington, D.C. In the past 18 months, Avison Young has expanded from 11 to 18 offices and from 300 to 600-plus real estate professionals in Canada and the U.S.
