Read this report to stay current with what's happening with commercial real estate in your region. The report below showcases the major centers across North America. Naturally, we're keeping our eye on what's happening in Western Canada as that's where our projects are. The Calgary and Vancouver markets boast some impressive statistics and signs of growth. The report reveals the strength of Calgary's retail market especially in the downtown core. Vancouver is building South Fraser Perimeter Road which creates opportunities. If you're involved in commercial real estate click the link below to keep an eye on your areas of interest.
