Economic Overview

Chicago's economy has seen significant improvement over the last 12 months. As of May 2018, unemployment stood at 3.4%, down 100 basis points (bps) year-over-year. This is slightly lower than the national average which is 3.6%. Cook and DuPage Counties saw the largest decreases in unemployment, down 130 bps to 3.4% and 100 bps to 2.6% respectively. Employment sectors with the largest year-over-year increases in jobs were construction, financial services, and government. Manufacturing jobs increased 1.5% year-over-year, which equates to 6,200 jobs. As of March 2018, total air cargo tonnage was recorded at 178,228 tons, up 2.5% from March 2017.

Tech giants, Facebook and Google, have recently announced major expansion plans within the Chicago market. Facebook is close to inking a deal for 200,000 sf at the recently completed 151 N Franklin, located within the West Loop. The new space will house upwards of 1,000 employees. Google has plans to add 100,000 sf of additional space within the River West submarket, which will also come with approximately 1,000 additional jobs. In addition to Amazon, Chicago is trying to attract Apple, which has announced that they are looking to build a new campus. This would create upwards of 20,000 new jobs. There has been no word yet if Chicago is in the running.

The Post Office is undergoing a major redevelopment, with construction having commenced this quarter. The project will add 2.7 msf of office space to the West Loop. Walgreens has committed to 200,000 sf and plans to move 1,800 employees from their tech and E-commerce departments into the new space. It is rumored that the company may potentially move its entire headquarters into the CBD from suburban Deerfield.

Office Market Overview

The CBD office market continued to see strong fundamentals throughout the second quarter of 2018. Overall vacancy was recorded at 10.9%, up slightly when compared to last quarter. This increase can be attributed to the three new buildings that were delivered during the quarter, totaling 1.7 million square feet (msf), of which 44% is vacant. Class A product saw vacancy increase 20 basis points (bps) to 12.2%. Overall leasing activity increased by 10.3% from last quarter, now sitting at 2.5 msf. The two submarkets which recorded the most activity were the West and Central Loops. Net absorption lagged over the same period, down to 895,741 sf. Only the River West and West Loop submarkets recorded positive net absorption.

There are currently nine properties totaling 5.5 msf under development within the CBD. The two largest being The Post Office and 110 N Wacker Dr, these two-projects account for 4.2 msf, or 75% of construction inventory. Most of the projects are located within the West Loop and River West submarkets.

There were 11 investment sale transactions during the second quarter of 2018 with a transactional volume of $1.3 billion, this represents a 29.4% increase year-over-year. Foreign capital continues to flow into the Chicago office market. To-date in 2018, Canadian investors have purchased a total of $557 million of office product. The largest investment sale was Sterling Bay's purchase of One and Two Prudential Plaza from a joint venture lead by the 601 Companies. The two East Loop properties represent 993,507 sf and traded for $680 million, or $310 per square foot (psf).

Trends to Watch

Construction Activity – Construction activity has begun to slow, there are currently nine properties under construction which total 5.5 msf. This represents a 21.9% decrease when compared to last quarter. The two largest projects in development account for 75% of construction inventory.

CBD Migration – As firms compete to attract and maintain top talent, the trend of corporate migrations from the suburbs to the CBD will likely continue. Recent announcements include the Ferrara Candy Company, which will relocate from their Oakbrook Terrace location into the West Loop. They are close to finalizing their lease at 625 W Adams St for approximately 60,000 sf.

Technology Tenants – Technology tenants are a major market driver which will likely continue. Top tenants in the market are Google and Facebook, which are looking to add to their existing footprints. Apple is also rumored to be looking at Chicago for their new campus.
