Market Overview

After a slow third quarter of 2019, the Atlanta office market rebounded in the last three months of the year. Strong leasing activity from previous quarters allowed for another quarter of positive absorption, however, there was a slight uptick in vacancy. Asking rental rates continue to break records as some buildings in the CBD submarkets are at the highest rates ever recorded in metro Atlanta.

Vacancy and Absorption

The Atlanta office market continued its positive trend in the fourth quarter, seeing an increase in activity from the third quarter of 2019. The market recorded 388,212 square feet (sf) of positive absorption during the fourth quarter, for a year-to-date total of 1.3 million square feet (msf), the largest yearly total since 2015. The Cumberland/ Galleria submarket saw the largest amount of positive net gains, 159,528 sf, as Floor & Decor moved into 190,000 sf at 2500 Windy

Ridge Parkway. Even with the large amount of positive absorption, the overall vacancy rate for the Atlanta market increased 10 basis points year-over-year to 15.5% in the fourth quarter. This slight uptick is due to the market recovering from the low amount of absorption seen in the third quarter and an upward trend is not expected to continue into 2020. The Class A vacancy rate saw a 130 basis point increase in the fourth quarter ending with a 15.4%. The increase in the Class A sector was due to negative absorption recorded in the third quarter. The Class B market saw an increase in activity and ended the quarter with a 16.3% vacancy rate, down 240 basis points year-over-year, and is the lowest rate recorded since 2008. The trend of Class B space performing better than Class A could continue in 2020 as Class A rental rates continue to rise and some tenants make the decision to move into Class B space to remain in their desired location, but at an affordable rate.

As urban office properties are quoting record high rental rates, expect tenants to begin looking at other options for space requirements

Leasing Activity

Leasing activity in the fourth quarter of 2019 remained strong with 2.3 msf of new leases signed, bringing the year-to-date total to 9.2 msf. This is slightly behind the pace of activity seen in 2018. The Central Perimeter submarket saw the largest amount of leasing activity for the fourth quarter with 565,358 sf leased. The largest new lease signed this quarter was Emory Healthcare taking 224,000 sf at the Northlake Mall redevelopment. They are taking the former Sears space, as well as additional sections of the mall, and will house more than 1,600 new employees. This new project is anticipated to break ground in 2020 and should be completed by the second quarter of 2021. Leasing activity in new office construction projects remains strong in metro Atlanta compared to the industrial sector.

New Construction

The pace of new construction activity saw a significant increase during the fourth quarter. Currently there are 4.8 msf under construction in the market, of which 45.5% is preleased. This is the largest amount of new construction since the first quarter of 2008. The Midtown submarket has the most amount of new space underway at 3.3 msf, and saw the only new project to break ground during the quarter. Midtown Union is a 610,000 sf office building that will be anchored by Invesco and is part of a larger mixed-use development that will consist of a 355-unit residential tower, 205-key boutique lifestyle hotel and 30,000 sf of retail. At the end of 2019 the market saw 1.7 msf of new space enter the inventory, which is up 6.3% from the end of 2018.

Rental Rates

Metro Atlanta's average asking rental rates continued to break records in the fourth quarter. The average asking rate ended the quarter at a record high $28.44 per square foot (psf) gross, up 5.7% year-over-year. The average Class A rate rose by 6.4% to $31.67 psf. Average Class B rates rose at a slower pace of 5.9% to $20.88 psf in the same period. Class A Midtown rates continue to be the highest and reached the $40 mark for the first time, ending the quarter at $40.85 psf. This is up 10.7% from the end of 2018, and was the largest submarket increase of the quarter.

Investment Sales

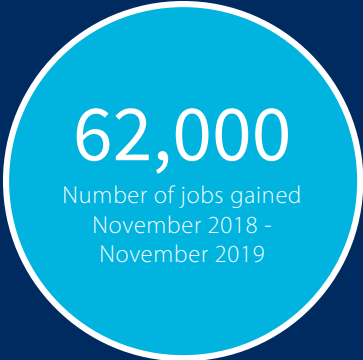

Office investment sales remained active in the fourth quarter, but behind the pace of 2018. Sales totaled $496 million which brings the year-to-date total to $2.7 billion. The largest sale of the quarter was the sale of 8601 Dunwoody Place. The Dilweg Companies purchased the seven building portfolio from Stockbridge Capital Group for $51.5 million. The average price per square foot ended the year at $142, up 4.3% from the end of 2018.

Outlook

Job growth continued its upward trend in metro Atlanta during the fourth quarter. According to the Bureau of Labor Statistics, employment in the Atlanta metro area grew by more than 62,000 jobs between November 2018 and November 2019. This is a growth rate of 2.2%, well ahead of the 1.5% growth the U.S. is currently experiencing. As new job announcements continue to dominate the headlines, metro Atlanta's office market should maintain its positive growth into 2020.

Trends to Watch

Look for these three key trends to continue throughout 2020 in the Atlanta office market.

Leasing Activity
New job announcements will continue to drive strong activity.

Rental Rates
Should continue to increase as vacancy tightens.

Construction
Should remain tempered as developers wait for an anchor.
